ScanLife Terms and Conditions (the “Agreement”)

BY USING THIS CLICK-THROUGH WEBSITE, YOU INDICATE YOUR ACCEPTANCE OF THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS. IF YOU DO NOT ACCEPT THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS, THEN DO NOT USE THIS WEBSITE. SCANBUY MAY, IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION, MODIFY, AMEND OR REVISE THIS AGREEMENT AT ANY TIME AND YOU AGREE TO BE BOUND BY SUCH MODIFICATIONS, AMENDMENTS OR REVISIONS.

This Agreement governs the access to and use of the ScanLife® Code Management Service and related documentation (collectively, “ScanLife”®¹), the use of two dimensional bar codes created using ScanLife (“2D Bar Codes”), all data generated by the use of the 2D Bar Codes (the “Data”) and any services (the “Services”) provided by Scanbuy, Inc. (“Scanbuy”). By using this website, accessing and using ScanLife, or by creating or using 2D Bar Codes: (a) you warrant to Scanbuy that you are authorized to accept this Agreement on behalf of your organization; and (b) you agree to be bound by this Agreement.

Free Trials:

By requesting the free trial option for Small Business Accounts or Professional Accounts, you agree to the terms of this Agreement and the information describing the applicable free trial on our webpage. Should you request a subscription plan for Small Business Accounts or Professional Accounts at any time, you will be subject to the applicable Sections in this Agreement governing the type of paid account you requested. You may deactivate your account at any time during your free trial. Your account, including any barcodes created by you during any free trial, may be deactivated at the end of the trial unless or until a Small Business Account plan or Professional Account plan is requested. For what it means to have your account deactivated, see Section entitled “Consequences of Deactivation” below.

If you requested a free trial for Professional Accounts, during or upon completion of your free trial you will be contacted by a ScanLife representative to discuss paid plan options.

Small Business Accounts:

By requesting a plan for Small Business Accounts, you agree to the terms of this Agreement and the information and fees on our webpage for the plan requested by you. You will be subject to fees in accordance with the plan requested by you on our webpage. The minimum required subscription period for any of the monthly plans is 6 months.

¹ “ScanLife” is a trademark of Scanbuy, Inc. that has been registered in the United States and European countries and is in the process of being registered in other countries.

You can upgrade your plan at any time based on usage but you cannot downgrade your plan at this time. You may cancel your plan at any time by emailing billing@scanlife.com but will continue to be charged for your minimum subscription period. Your credit card will be billed monthly in advance for each month of your plan, and fees will accrue for each month of the plan even if you are not generating barcodes, your barcodes are not being scanned or you voluntarily deactivate your account. Once you have completed the term of your plan, your plan will automatically renew every month unless you cancel or upgrade before your plan ends. If you cancel your plan at any time, your account will remain active for a 30 day grace period or for the remainder of your plan if you cancel more than 30 days before its expiration, unless you elect to deactivate your account immediately. You may deactivate your account at any time but in no event does deactivation relieve you of your payment obligations for the term of your plan.

- Scans for Small Business Accounts

- Please note that “number of scans per month” is calculated in the aggregate, for all barcodes generated under a particular plan, and is not calculated on a per barcode basis. For instance, if 5 barcodes are generated under the “Starter” plan, the maximum number of scans allowable per month is 500 and not 2500. Furthermore, the maximum number of scans allowable per month remains the same even if you generate fewer barcodes than the number allowable under your current pricing plan. For instance, if 4 barcodes are generated, the maximum number of scans allowable per month is still 500.
- If the number of scans allowable per month under your current plan exceeds the number of scans in a month, the excess does not rollover to the next month.
- If the number of scans in a month exceeds the number of scans allowable per month under your current plan, for two consecutive months, then your plan will be automatically upgraded to the plan that best meets the average number of scans over those two months. If you are subject to the “Premium” plan in the “Small Business” category or the “Personal Plus” plan in the “Personal” category, and you exceed the number of scans allowable per month for two consecutive months, then you will be contacted by a ScanLife representative to discuss more appropriate pricing plans and be given the opportunity to deactivate or customize your account. We reserve the right to deactivate your account if we are unable to reach you within 30 days of first contacting you.

- Payment and Refund Policy for Small Business Accounts

- Payment for your plan will be made by a valid credit card accepted by Scanbuy through Authorize.net. Please see Authorize.net for policies which may apply to you. Checks will not be accepted. Fees are payable in U.S. dollars, unless a local currency is displayed. By selecting the monthly payment option, you authorize Scanbuy to charge your credit card for such amounts on a regular monthly basis and continuing until such time as your account is validly terminated. If Scanbuy is for any reason unable to effect automatic payment via your credit card, Scanbuy will attempt to notify you via email. If within 15 days of this notification we are still unable to effect payment, we reserve the right to disable your account until payment is received. Amounts paid for plans, including prepayments, are not refundable. Scanbuy may be required to collect and remit sales tax from its customers located in state and local jurisdictions where ScanLife is taxable. Scanbuy will determine your local taxing jurisdiction based on the billing address that you list in your account.
- Scanbuy may immediately disable your account, without refund, if Scanbuy believes in its sole discretion that you have violated any of the policies listed in these terms.
- You may terminate your account at any time by emailing Scanbuy Customer Support at billing@scanlife.com. There are no refunds for any fees paid. YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR TERMINATING YOUR ACCOUNT AND SCANBUY IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR YOUR FAILURE TO PROPERLY TERMINATE YOUR ACCOUNT AND ANY CREDIT CARD CHARGES AND FEES YOU INCUR AS A RESULT OF YOUR FAILURE TO PROPERLY TERMINATE YOUR ACCOUNT.

Professional Accounts:

By requesting a plan for Professional Accounts, you agree to the terms of this Agreement and any Statements of Work executed by you and will be subject to fees in accordance with such Statements of Work. You can upgrade your plan at any time based on usage but you cannot downgrade your plan at this time. You may cancel your plan at any time but will continue to be charged for the minimum term agreed to by you in any Statements of Work. Fees will accrue during the minimum term even if you are not generating barcodes, your barcodes are not being scanned or you voluntarily deactivate your account. You may deactivate your account at any time but in no event does deactivation relieve you of your payment obligations for the term of your plan. Scanbuy may immediately disable your account, without refund, if Scanbuy believes, in its sole discretion, that you have violated any of the policies listed in these terms.

- Scans for Professional Accounts

- Please note that “number of scans” is calculated in the aggregate, for all barcodes generated under a particular plan, and is not calculated on a per barcode basis. For instance, if 5 barcodes are generated under a plan, the maximum number of scans allowable for that plan is 500 and not 2500. Furthermore, the maximum number of scans allowable remains the same even if you generate fewer barcodes than the number allowable under your current pricing plan. For instance, if 4 barcodes are generated, the maximum number of scans allowable is still 500.

For the avoidance of doubt, the following terms govern all accounts:

Arbitration

Any dispute relating to ScanLife, the 2D Bar Codes, the Services or this Agreement that cannot be resolved by the parties will be resolved by arbitration in New York, New York, USA under the Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association or any other rules mutually agreeable to the parties. Any dispute involving claims asserted by both parties that in the aggregate equal or exceed $100,000, or claims that seeks injunctive or equitable relief, will be resolved by a panel of three neutral arbitrators as follows: each party will appoint an arbitrator and those two arbitrators will appoint a third arbitrator who will chair the arbitration panel. Both parties consent to the jurisdiction of that arbitrator or arbitration panel, as appropriate. All proceedings will be conducted, and all documents submitted in connection with those proceedings will be presented, in the English language. Arbitration proceedings may be consolidated with arbitration proceedings pending between other individuals or entities if the arbitration proceedings arise out of the same transaction or relate to the same subject matter. To the extent permitted by Applicable Law, judgment upon the award rendered by the arbitrator(s) may be entered in any court having jurisdiction over the parties or the dispute. Neither party may disclose the existence, content, results or any other information about the dispute, the arbitration or the award to any person except as necessary to enforce the award or as required by Applicable Law.

- Exception. Notwithstanding the Arbitration Section above: (a) the parties will be entitled to interim or provisional relief from a court that may be necessary to protect the rights or property of that party pending the arbitration process; and (b) the parties may waive their rights under the Arbitration Section and instead elect to have any dispute arising out of or related to ScanLife, the 2D Bar Codes, the Services or this Agreement resolved by the courts of the state, province, commonwealth, or country where you are located, and in that case, the parties agree that those courts will have exclusive jurisdiction in relation to that dispute.

This Agreement is binding upon and enforceable by each party's permitted successors and assignees. Any assignment in violation of this Section is null and void.

Force Majeure

Neither party will be in default or otherwise liable for any delay in or failure of its performance under this Agreement if the delay or failure arises from any reason beyond its reasonable control, including any act of God, any acts of the common enemy, terrorism, the elements, earthquakes, floods, fires, epidemics, riots, failures or delay in transportation or communications, strikes, labor disturbances or slowdowns, or any act or failure to act by the other party or its employees, agents or contractors. The parties will promptly inform and consult with each other as to any of the above causes that in their judgment may or could be the cause of a delay in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement.
